SATURDAY'S TOWN MEETING

the Special Town Meeting called for 1 p.m. Saturday, in the High School gymnasium, is for the purpose of voting for a new High School, on the former Fred Roberts estate off Burlington Avenue, with an added question being the voting of some additional zoning By-Laws, at the request of the Wilmington Planning Board, to be known as High Density Traffic Business Districts.

It could be that the voters will turn down both. The Finance Committee already has, with reservations.

But the School Department has hopes of completing the action in the next Annual Town Meeting, in March, if it is not completed in the Special Town Meeting next Saturday.

The first article asks that the town vote to participate in a Regional Drug Abuse Control Center, in Lowell. As understood by this paper, this has to be voted yearly. It is not one of those things which, once voted, goes on forever. The Finance Committee has approved $8,200, by transfer.

The Finance Committee has disapproved the purchase of the Roberts Estate, which comes up in Article 2. The School Committee is ready to submit an article for purchase of the former estate, with $3900 being transferred from Account 960, of the town's funds. There is confidence in the School Department that this will be accepted by the voters.

Article 3 is disapproved by the Finance Committee with the remark that "We understand that this article will be passed over". This implies an understanding of some sort.

There is a legal technicality. The town cannot vote for money for plans for a building on land that it does not own. That is why the School authorities are looking forward to the March Town Meeting for this vote.

SURPRISE PACKAGE

Who says the biggest surprises come in small packages? Not always, as Kenneth Gray, 23 of 5 River St. recently discovered.

On a neighborhood deer hunting trip last Saturday in Berlin, N.H., Gray found, or was found by, a package he hadn't been counting on in the borm of a 350 pound Black Bear.

Reportedly the bear "went after" Gray and this was the tragic flaw which led to the furry beasts demise.

One may ask who was surprised most by the incident, hunter of bear, but since it's the bear's carcass hanging from a tree in the backyard of the River Street home, the question becomes entirely academic.

The Finance Committee has approved spending $1,000 for plans for an addition to the Police Station, under Article 4.

High Density Zoning, proposed by the Planning Board, and, too, by Selectman Backman, got a rough treatment from the Finance Committee. It disapproved of most of the proposals, saving only one on Drive-In Restaurants, which caused all the commotion in the first place.

The Planning Board has prepared a number of amendments for these articles. If properly present, the Finance Committee might be persuaded to change its mind. Some of the Planning Board articles deserve better treatment than a curt No.

Article 17 is to correct an article in the annual Town Meeting

THE COMMISSIONER OF EDUCATION: Shown on his visit to Wilmington last week. Neil Sullivan, (Center) spoke to say that he is not in favor of Double Sessions, nor in favor of putting off the Kindergarten Program in Massachusetts. Any town that fails to comply to the state statutes and regulations he warned, is liable to lose their state support of schools.

Wilmington receives $850,000 from the state, in support of its schools, a figure that is scheduled to expand to $1,000,000 by 1973.

ASSISTANT COMMISSIONER FAVORS NEW HIGH SCHOOL

After consulting with Commissioner of Education, Dr. Neil V. Sullivan, and the Wilmington School Administration, Mr. William B. Black, Assistant Commissioner for School Facilities and Related Services sent the following letter to Wilmington:

Mr. Walter H. Pierce
Superintendent of Schools
Wilmington, Mass.

Dear Mr. Pierce:
Thank you for the copy of your report, "To the Citizens of Wilmington", dated November, 1970.

In my opinion, your proposal to construct a new high school on an adequate site is an integral part of an educationally and financially sound long-range plan for meeting present and future school building needs in Wilmington. This action if taken will not only allow the town to move towards a solution to its school housing problem with one school construction project, but will also allow the town to make use of existing school facilities in an effective manner by converting the existing high school to a junior high school and converting the intermediate schools to elementary schools.

I hope the citizens of Wilmington follow your recommendation and take positive action at the November 21 Special Town Meeting.

Cordially yours,
William B. Black
Assistant Commissioner
School Facilities and Related Services

It was a Crude Bomb

In reporting the story of the attempted fire-torching of the West Intermediate School, last week, the Town Crier remarked that the Molotov cocktails were crude.

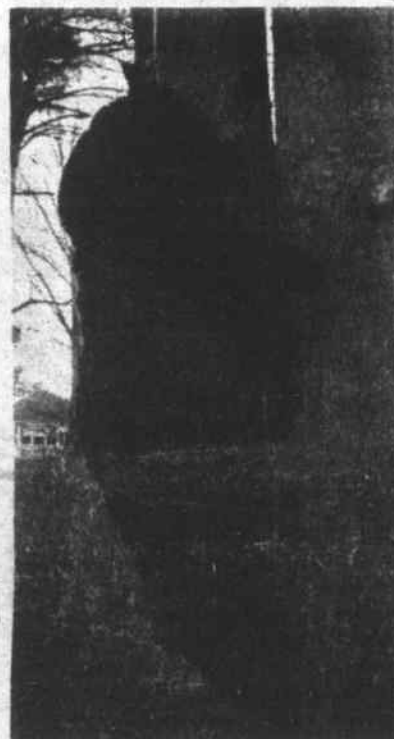

The West Intermediate School was the scene of a basketball game on that Tuesday when the firebombs were thrown. The games ended at 9:30 pm. The alarms went off at 9:42 pm.

These were the first obvious facts, for the Detective Bureau of the Wilmington Police Department. They led to other facts and conclusions, and by Saturday morning they were in Woburn Court, seeking warrants for the search of two homes in Wilmington, and for the arrest of the suspects, whom they named.

They knew what they were looking for - a material that was in those bombs. They found it. The members of the Detective Bureau consider the evidence on hand to be quite conclusive.

Sgt. George Shepard and Inspectors John Harvey and Daniel Ballou made the arrests last Saturday - all juveniles except for one who is technically an adult, being 17 years old. All are from Wilmington except one juvenile who comes from Arlington.

All were arraigned in Woburn Court Monday morning, before Justice Francis Cullen. Four were released on bail, one was committed to an institution, and the 'adult' was sent to the Billerica jail, in lieu of the bail set ($10,000). A hearing is scheduled in Woburn Court on November 30 which was voted incorrectly. The town's vote failed approval by the state, as a result. It concerns the vote on West Street.

Article 18 asks for a new fee schedule for the Building Inspector. The Town Manager says it is more 'realistic'.

Article 19 is to correct action voted in 1965, for the taking of land for school purposes, off Hopkins Street.

Article 20 is the same thing, for the Whitefield School.

Article 21 has its humor. A company, newly arrived in Massachusetts (Brewster Lumber) made a mistake and paid its taxes twice. The only way it can get the extra money back is by petitioning the state legislature, through the town.

EX-GOVERNOR FOSTER FURCOLO: Was a visitor to Wilmington last week, as a part of the Drug Education program. He is shown conferring with school teachers and a few parents, who are working on the School Drug Awareness program. Foster is at right, at the end of the table.

OPEN-HOUSE SCHEDULE

The Elementary Schools will hold Open-House from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. on the following dates:

Wednesday, Nov. 18, Boutwell.

Monday, Nov. 23, Wildwood and Glen Road.

Tuesday, Nov. 24, Shawsheen, Woburn and Central District.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our thanks to the Wilmington Police Department, and all our friends and neighbors for their help and concern during our Friday 13th experience.

"The Hot Seat"Planning Board Downs Roberts Estate H.S. Site

There's a chair at the Planning Board conference table labelled "The Hot Seat". While the derivation of the name is uncertain, the effect of sitting in that chair was clearly demonstrated Tuesday night at the Board's scheduled meeting in the Mildred Rogers School.

Madelyn McKie was sitting in the Hot Seat when she made a motion that the Board recommend the passage of Article Two at Saturday's Special Town Meeting, which submitted by the School Committee, asks that the Town vote to raise the money for the acquisition of the Roberts Estate as a site for the construction of a public school or schools.

The motion was defeated by a vote of three to two.

Citing the population projection included in the 701 Master Plan, Mrs. McKie had noted that the Roberts Estate is in the area of greatest growth potential.

The Master Plan projection is in opposition to Prof. Charles Eliot's School Site Report of one month ago in which it was stated that South Wilmington had the greatest population growth potential.

"Are we saying yes, the Town needs a new high school?" asked Mort Grant.

"Were saying the land should be acquired," responded Mrs. McKie.

Grant was concerned about the construction costs of a new high school and the Board's recommendations. The Planning Board shouldn't put itself in the position of approving this without consideration to finances. By inference the townspeople will think the Planning Board is recommending a new high school," he added. Grant went on to say that the proposal for a new high school "has been a continual selling job by the School Committee."

Mrs. McKie responded that "the Planning Board is not recommending on matters of finance, or on the need for a new school, but on site locations."

To this Grant said that the Roberts Estate had not been recommended by Prof. Eliot in his School Sites Report.

From the Hot Seat, Mrs. McKie replied that the report made no recommendations but listed considerations to be made in selecting a site. Some of these came under the Planning Board's jurisdiction such as abutting properties, population growth and sewerage problems.

Fiances were not in the realm of the Board, she explained.

Dan Gillis had asked that he speak last.

"This is absurd," he said. "The Planning Board's paid consultant, experts, soil surveys.... you always say listen to the professionals, now you want the planning Board to recommend the Roberts Estate? That's asinine."

Asked about sewerage facilities, Town Engineer Arthur Harding told the Board that it would cost more to extend the sewer from the main trunkline to the Roberts Estate than to the Allen property.

Returning to the subject of population growth, Mort Grant said he felt the figures presented by the School Committee were "less valid now than when they were prepared due to the events of the past year." Company layoffs and tight money are resulting in less construction of new homes, here as everywhere, he suggested.

Mrs. McKie then asked about the alternative site, the Allen property. She said it couldn't be taken for a school site because, as the Permanent Building Committee reported two months ago, it was a business and would cause a hardship for the owner.

"A piece of land with a path for racing horses is a business?" asked Gillis incredulously. "That's asinine, too!"

Mrs. McKie and Chairman Bill Hooper voted in favor, and Grant, Gillis and Bill Hanlon were opposed to the motion.

In listing the reasons for the negative vote, for a report to the voters at Town Meeting, Bill Hanlon included the adverse report from the USD Soil Conservation Service on soil surveys on the Roberts land, Prof. Eliot's verbal if not written recommendation of the Allen property as a high school site, and the discrepancy between the Master Plan population projection and the School Sites Report projection.

Mort Grant added some comments about the School Committee's Total Building Program, saying: "The School Committee is doing a disservice to the Town by only presenting their side of the argument, by saying 'we're giving you information' and they're not."

Other Facets

Prior to the school sites motion and discussion, the Board had outlined other facets of its report for the Special Town Meeting.

Reasons given for the necessity of High Density Zoning were the return of control to the people on aspects of land usage, high traffic volume problems, and the refining of the zoning by-laws.

Bill Hanlon pointed out that the laws could be refined more later to make them more inclusive and effective.

In explaining the Board's disapproval of Article 27, the report will list such reasons as unfavorable reports from neighbors, spot zoning, traffic problems which make the area detrimental to the health, safety and welfare of motorists, outstanding action on the HDZ articles, and the present zoning of the land in question as residential.

Article Ten would remove the possibility of having a clubhouse in a rural or residential area and leave clubhouses in the section of the by-laws governing accepted uses in a General Business district.

The reason for submitting Article 16 is to close a by-law loophole which permits dwellings in a General Business district. The Board noted that the loophole has existed for many years and was a result of poor planning.

Street Acceptance

A proposal from Town acceptance of 35 streets at the March Town Meeting was made by Town Engineer Arthur Harding. Harding delivered a short status report on street construction and improvement, and said that most of the work had been completed.

He said he'd like to see the Town "clean up all the loose ends and outstanding subdivisions in the entire Town."

Some of the streets mentioned for acceptance this spring were: Fordham Road and Industrial Way, Harold Avenue and Reed Street in Jackson Park, Nathan, Benson, Radcliff and Everett Roads, Wicks Circle, Adelaide Street and the streets in Allen Park.

Harding noted that Sherwood Road and Washington Street are being completed under the Betterment Act and would be ready for street acceptance in March.

He also reported that there is a street in Hathaway Acres without a name. Originally intended to be part of Marie Drive, one section of the street had to be detoured around a ledge formation thus making a separate roadway.

Harding concluded by saying the streets, if accepted, would add three to four miles of roadway to the existing 76 miles in Town. This he believed would prove beneficial in the future application for Chapter 90 funds.

Land Plans

Two of three land plans submitted to the Board by Harding were endorsed.

The first of these was a plan by the Town Engineer for a drain easement 50 feet wide from Bridge Lane to the Middlesex Canal to relieve present and future flooding conditions in the area.

The second plan endorsed was for 4.78 acres of land on the Woburn town line owned by Anthony Santullo of Chestnut Avenue, Burlington.

A plan submitted to the Town Engineer by Dr. C.A. Rounds for the subdivision of land on Woburn and Salem Streets was disapproved by the Board on a motion by Dan Gillis. The motion for disapproval was based on the belief that the plans showed a possible re-subdivision at a future date.

In making the motion Gillis said he was "tired of attorneys trying to circumvent the law."

HIGH DENSITY ARTICLES AMENDED

Voters attending the Special Town Meeting Saturday will find that the High Density Articles submitted by the Planning Board have undergone some minor surgery.

The amended-zoning amendments are the result of the Board's public hearing two weeks ago and the discussion which took place at the following Tuesday night meeting.

Deleted from Article Seven under "uses permitted" in HDZ are the sections dealing with indoor amusement, showrooms, retail merchandising businesses, and hotels or motels.

Restaurants which do not provide dancing or entertainment, parking lots and service stations are permitted.

Repair garages, drive-in restaurants and restaurants with dancing and/or entertainment are permitted, in HDZ, only by authorization of the Board of Appeals.

Articles Five through Nine, excluding Seven, remain the same as advertised. The purpose of the first five articles is to define HDZ and to place certain businesses within its realm.

To keep everything legal, articles removing those same businesses from the zoning categories they now occupy are necessary, hence articles 11 through 13.

Article 11 removes restaurants from Neighborhood Business Districts, Article 12 deletes restaurants, parking lots and service stations from General Business Districts, and Article 13 takes repair garages out of the section of the zoning by-laws relative to Industrial Districts.

Bill Hooper, chairman of the Planning Board, had said after the public hearing that the Board expected there would be some opposition to the articles and that the Board had purposely made them broad to allow cutting if necessary.

Assisting in the surgery that evening were Attorney Joseph Courtney and Stan Webber of the Chamber of Commerce. Their comments, respectively, that the articles were "a rather drastic form of overkill" and "not specific enough" in the original form helped pave the way for the changes.

It has been reported that the Selectmen have approved of the articles as amended.

Letter

Dear Larz:

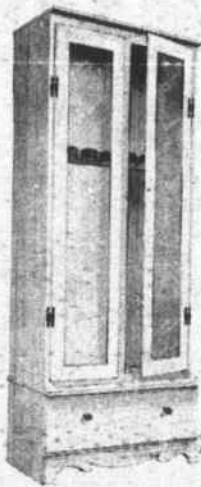

According to the last issue of the Town Crier, Commissioner of Education, Dr. Neil Sullivan came to town.

Your story in part read that Mr. Sullivan stated, "Wilmington has some extremely competent teachers." I would like to know where these teachers were when the School Committee made all the past selections from outside candidates.

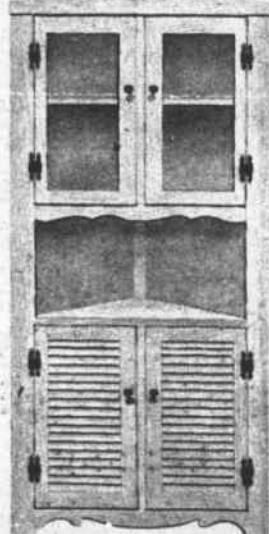

Why were these "extremely competent teachers" kept under wraps so long?

Its too bad Neil Sullivan didn't visit our town sooner, perhaps then the list of names on the higher echelon jobs would read much differently that it does at present.

Sincerely
Mike Walsh

Sorry about last week there Folks...Seems like the boss had too much to do and this Chick is just the filler, so apologies to you gals that gave me the notices and didn't make it...but c'est la vie!

This Gal was mighty upset with those there kids and their bomb scares and the job done at the West Intermediate last week...It would seem that these kids are really mentally disturbed. They should have some psychiatric help if they would destroy public property that way...because it belongs to the parents and themselves and if this destruction keeps up, the taxpayers including them will pay for it forever...and anyway...they'll have to go to school even if it's in a Quonset Hut cause that's the law...so, let's lay off that stuff you guys...and you other kids the heck with being scared of others...let somebody know somehow when you know these kids are up to something destructive...How in heck can we open the schools for your recreation which we are trying hard to do if you are, going to let somebody get away with that stuff...so now, let's get with it and make things right. Ya know that good kid power is just as strong as lousy kid power

The inability to sleep, perhaps one of the most difficult of all minor ailments to bear, is not a disease in itself, and is rarely due to disease. In fact sleeplessness is generally traceable to nervousness, worry, or pain. Paradoxically, lack of sleep rarely causes physical harm so much as psychological harm.

For the prevention of insomnia moderate physical exercise can be helpful. Too much exercise however, can result in fatigue, excessive restlessness, sleeplessness.

A leisurely walk in the fresh air may be all that is necessary, topped off, perhaps, with a warm bath, to induce that precious commodity, sleep, for you.

Those Walker School Mothers are having a Bazaar tonight at the Masonic Hall from 6 to 10 pm, and they specialize in hand knits and holiday items, you know so cruise down there, Gals, and see what it's about...

Now this is what we love to hear...Barbie Tobey and Kathie Attarian, the leaders of the GS Troop 265 came to see this Gal and announced that their girls wanted to make cookies to send to some of the boys overseas...Well, that really got me excited just like when Bernie Brady called and told us that Sweetheart would send cards...Those kids over there are beginning to feel a little like lost souls...I think...with all the talk and demonstrations going on in this country...So, you are perfectly great and go to that Baking, Tr 265...that is where it's at...Do for others on Christmas...that's what it's all about!

Now, and you Folks...get those cards ready...and those packages for overseas...You got your list last week...and the mail has to be gone on the 21st in order to ensure getting there...and hope that the Women's Auxiliary for the VFW has their packages all ready to go...Mrs Bucky has been working on that...and speaking of Bucky...

He called us to tell us that Arthur Buxton is out...and that Mark's address is Cpl Mark E Buxton, B Battery, 544 Arty. APO San Francisco Cal 96477...Thanks, Bucky.

We had a Ball at the 40th Anniversary of the Woburn Ladies Lodge of the Sons of Italy a week ago Saturday night, where Fran Gray is the Venerable. Wow...Fred and Mrs Cain and Sal and Sylvia Fantasia were among the guests with whom we had lots of fun at the table, while George and Fran joined the group after they completed their duties at the Head Table.

Edie Cuoco writes that the Wilmington Women's Club presented the Library Trustees with a water color 'Work and Play' by Donald Plumer of Lexington...The presentation was made by Mrs Booth the President, with Mrs Cosman and Mrs C and Mrs Condrey of the Art Committee...So watch for it at the Library.

Those PeeWee Hockey Players will be out asking for your help to keep their program going...They will be looking for donations 25 cents for a ticket or $1 per book, and the Grand Prize will be a 1971 Skidoo Snowmobile, or a 1971 color TV Console...The Drawing will be on December 19, 1970 at the Skating Club on Chestnut Street...So, help those kids out...There are 450 boys in that group registered between the ages of 5 and 14 and they are really with it 4:30 am for practice...Yikes!

Hey Kids...Rumpelstiltskin will be presented by the Touring Players in the High School on Nov 22nd at 1 pm and 3 pm...Tickets are one dollar each and can be purchased at any of the elementary schools.

Cards to Frank DeVita, 7 years old who dislocated a hip at the Pop Warer game...at Winchester Hospital...Kids and Parents, let Frank now know you care.

Paul MacDonald of Westdale Ave is confined to the Winchester Hospital with something or other So get a card to him too Gals

Congratulations to Chris Mahoney and Roger Okolo, who found an empty carriage with a purse in it at the Plaza last week...The purse contained over $800, we hear...and those kids returned the purse to the owner's husband. He was at home, but she didn't know that she had lost it...Nice-going, Kids...That's the kind of news we like to hear.

Now folks, I just heard about the annual Mistletoe Ball to be held at Villanova Hall on Saturday, December 19th, and advance reservations may be made by calling 658-8319

Arthur All grove will be having Terrariums at the Mass Horticultural Society's Indoor Garden Days on Dec 4 and 5 from 10 to 9 pm at the Horticultural Hall at 300 Mass Avenue in Boston...and that fellow has some talent...His new catalog arrived this week, and we really sit down and dream with that one...Always since this Chick was a tiny Gal she has wanted a Wild-flower Garden, and certainly now she has the spot for it...but time is of the essence...and the flowers have to come after the cooking, So those posies have to wait a bit...but we do enjoy that catalog Arthur, and we'll get with that garden and those birds some day before the bulldozer gets us, we hope!

Now, Cub and Boy Scouts...Pack 56 has come to the rescue of the mother with a uniform exchange...Anyone with a Cub or Boy Scout Uniform to exchange or donate should call 658-8193...and that will be a help in that pants-with-the-ankle-showing in the middle of the year...What a nightmare we had in the days when the Clan were all growing and everytime we turned around somebody's pants were half way to his knees.

Gordon Smit of Bond St is now at air defense missile electronics school at Fort Bliss Texas and Frank Mortelliti of 12 Hathaway Road is an engineering assistant with Jackson and Moreland in Boston and spoke at the Career Day in Wentworth Institute in Boston for first year students in industrial and engineering fields.

Tonight a Blitz and Coffee Hour at St Dorothy's lower hall...Lovely prizes displayed for the winners.

Liz Baxter, President of the Emblem Club invites you all to a demonstration of Christmas lighting and the Social on Nov 23 at the Elks Hall on Sout Street Tewksbury at 8 pm. Barbara McCarthy of Mass Gas Electric for demonstration.

And see you all on Saturday at 1 pm at the Special Town Meeting at the High School Gym...

Barbara Dayton says that the skate exchange is now in full swing again on Burlington Ave and Skaters...That's Mrs DAYTON, 214 Burlington Avenue...658-2583.

P.S. If any of this is missing again this week, Guys and Dolls, call the Boss at 658-2346...After this writing, this NN is beyond this Chick's control...Got that...and thanks for your graciousness in the phone calls and stuff.

Development of Roberts Estate for School Site will be Costly says US Dept. of Agriculture

(A report on the geological conditions of the Fred Roberts estate of Wilmington, made expressly for the Wilmington Planning Board)

Purpose

The purpose of this report is to provide basic soil and water data on a site being considered for the new Wilmington High School.

Origin of Request

The Wilmington Planning Board requested assistance from the Middlesex Conservation District in evaluating a site which is being considered for the construction of the new Wilmington High School. Technical assistance and the preparation of this report was provided by representatives of the USD Soil Conservation Service, 403 Massachusetts Ave., Acton, Mass.

Location

If the putty on your windows is cracked and loose and there are black stains from sweating on the inside surfaces of the sash, it's time for window clean-up. Remove old putty with a chisel or screwdriver. Replace the old putty with a good grade of glazing compound and smooth it into bevels with a putty knife. Sand the black stains until they disappear, then put on an undercoat of enamel and finish with a coat of enamel. Storm windows eliminate sweating. If you have them and the problem, try a home dehumidifier.

Don't get stuck without the proper supplies to finish those remodeling jobs. See us at A.B. SWEZEY, INC., 615 Main St., 658-2051 for all your needs.

The site is located to the north of Burlington Ave. and east of the Boutwell School. The Ipswich River flows from south to north within the property and parallel to its eastern boundary.

Soils

The major soil found in this area are outlined in attachment No. 1. These soils are described as follows:

40-A-1 Scarboro fine sandy loam—This is very poorly drained soil that has formed in deep deposits of sands and gravels. This soil occupies depressions and low flat areas that are kept wet most of the year by a high water table.

46 Deep muck—This is very poorly drained bog soil formed by accumulations of organic deposits that are underlain by mineral soils. Muck soil occurs in depressions and potholes. The water table is at or near the surface most of the year. The depth of muck soil in this area is over 3 feet.

224 B1, C1 Millis—extremely stony fine sandy loam—This is a well drained soil that has developed in a fine sandy loam mantle 20-30 inches thick over a compaction loamy sand glacial till. The underlying glacial till is hard, compact, and slowly permeable. The permeability of the surface soil is moderately rapid to rapid. This soil has an extremely stony surface and subsurface.

Evaluation

The Scarboro soils have severe limitations for school sites, commercial and industrial sites, home sites, and for disposal of septic tank effluent. Because of their rapid permeability, these soils are easily drained, providing suitable outlets for underground drainage systems. However, these soils are also subject to flooding by the Ipswich River and are located in the flood plain. If drainage is practical, these areas may be made useable for recreational uses.

The muck soils have severe limitations for school sites, commercial and industrial sites, home sites, and for disposal of septic tank effluent. When drained these soils shrink, when filled upon they compress and settle.

Millis extremely stony fine sandy loam has a severe limitation for school sites, commercial and industrial sites, and on site septic systems due to a slowly permeable compact layer occurring 20-30 inches beneath the surface. The extremely stony surface and subsurface cause difficulty in site preparation and landscaping.

Constructing a school on this site with the necessary parking area, roads and sports fields would require extensive grading and land shaping. In the process of grading, great numbers of large boulders would be exposed. Also during the process of grading, an extremely large area of the compact subsurface soil would be uncovered. This would probably make it necessary to provide subsurface drainage around any basement foundations of the school as well as subsurface drainage in the parking areas, roads and playing field areas.

The predicted percolation rate of the subsurface soil is slow and it may be difficult to obtain the necessary state approval for installation of an on site disposal field. It may be possible to construct a filter field by placing fill over a pervious soil area; however, the opportunity for causing ground water pollution is an important consideration in this location. In our opinion, the site would be better served by a sanitary sewer system.

Since much of the site is wetland and is located in the flood plain of the Ipswich River, information of value may be obtained from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers who are currently conducting a flood plain information study.

If these wet soils are to be dredged, drained or filled, the town should comply with Chapter 131, Section 40, of the General Laws of Mass., known as the Hatch Act.

Summary

If this area is to be used as a school site, it should be pointed out that to develop the area will be costly due to the inherent limitations of the soils.

Reference is made to the USDA Operational Soil Survey, Town of Wilmington, Mass., 1969. The interpretive map for Commercial and Industrial Sites with On Site Septic Systems may be used to select other potential school sites for evaluation that are more suitable from a soils standpoint. These areas identified as having slight limitations are characterized as having the best physical soil properties for school construction.

INSURANCE INSIGHTS

By Lloyd Bender

In spite of the fact that a 15% cut in premiums on the "no fault" provision of the new insurance law may or not be a fair reduction, the insurance companies are willing to accept this cut until experience proves it too high or too low. The insurance companies believe, and they can back it up with figures, that they actually need an increase in auto property damage rates. But the legislature in election year 1970 cut back premiums...all premiums by 15%.

Be fair and honest with yourself on this issue which affects you and I so deeply. Could you afford to maintain your home or business if out-go exceeded in-come? What this reduction means is that insurance companies in general will be actually receiving less...substantially less than they need to stay in business.

It's easy to cheer when big companies seem to be losing the battle with the man-in-the-street and I don't expect you to jump for joy when insurance rates go up. Inflation just isn't the kind of issue that brings people out for a "hero's welcome". But everything costs more than it did in 1966 and the insurance companies haven't been granted an increase in premium rates since then.

Government regulation of the cost of goods and services is also a serious step and there are plenty of people who already feel that we're further along the road to socialism than we should be.

WATCH NEXT WEEK FOR:

Massachusetts Economy

They Called Him Tony

There is a tendency, in the New England towns, to brush under the carpet those things which are not wholly edifying. A writer is expected to tell of the successes, but not of the people who for one reason or another failed to succeed.

John Horton was not a "success". But he was a real, live man, and an interesting one. His story deserves to be told.

Tony, as he was called, was born John Horton, one of a family of brothers and sisters, down on Parker Street. His father was Howard Horton, who had been born in Wisconsin, probably of a Maine family, and had come east to meet and marry Clarissa Sheldon, the daughter of one of the sturdy families of Wilmington.

Howard Horton was a carpenter and builder, and he served the Town of Wilmington with honor and distinction in several capacities during his lifetime. He was, for instance, a member of the School Committee for many years. He was the chairman, in 1914-15, when the town built a new High School (now the Swain School) for a cost of $36 thousand. Howard built many homes in Wilmington - one that comes to mind is the Wilson home on Shawsheen Avenue, which he built in the early twenties.

John had an accident when he was three years old - he found some headache powders, and he ate them. It deranged him mentally for life.

He grew up to be - well to day the Town Idiot is wrong, as is to say the Town Fool. But he was incapable of an education of any degree, as he was incapable of carrying sustained thoughts.

John was incapable of finishing his education in the Wilmington Schools, and he grew up to be a sort of handy man, after his own definitions of what that entailed. The youths of his age, with typical thoughtlessness, called him Tony, a name that he did not like, but to which he learned to respond. Tony was often the butt of rude practical jokes, on the part of his peers.

His parents, of course took care of their son in a thoughtful way, but as he grew older he could not be kept at home. John, for so his father called him, was taken with his father to the jobs that were being done, as a simple helper. It was a task to which he could not apply himself with any sustained effort, more than a few hours.

And, in their cruel and thoughtless way, the boys of Wilmington liked John, or as they called him, Tony. Sometimes he made some surprisingly sage remarks, which were repeated over and over, in the barbershop of Peter Langlois, down in the square. Tony could always provide conversation, in that barbershop.

In those days, when a kitchen stove not only was a necessity for cooking breakfast, but also for heating a home, Tony developed a business of sawing cord wood into stove length. He would walk around town with a saw-horse over his shoulder and an old hat somewhere on the back of his head. A large saw over his shoulder, and a smile on his face was all the introduction that was needed, and many an afternoon Tony spent in the backyards of Wilmington's homes, cutting up cordwood. He got 25 cents, or maybe 50 cents, for cutting a cord of wood - which wasn't much pay. But in those days, a young fellow who had nothing to do would go out into the woods in the winter and cut fire wood, at a going rate of $3 a cord, which was even more work.

Tony would always do an errand for a dime, or a quarter. Ralph Currier had a meat market, up in the square about where the Center Pharmacy is today, and Ralph would send Tony down to the bank on occasion, to get some small change. Tony would accomplish the errand with zeal, and promptness, and never a thought of taking any money for himself. Ralph, of course would always tip Tony.

It was at the bank end where the fun was. Joseph McMahon, who was the banker, and represented what is now the Reading Savings Bank, would always have a little gentle fun with Tony - pretend to short-change him.

Tony was very poor at reading, but not at counting, and he would pounce on Joe's "errors" with glee. "Oh no! Mr. McMahon - You can't Fool Me!" And he would triumphantly count out the right change, which he would bring back to Ralph Currier.

Joe's trick, if that is what you want to call it, was that of a gentleman. Some which were played on Tony were more crude.

When the late George Spanos "Mayor of Wilmington" was married, in 1915, to one of the Kelley girls, Jim Kelley, Town Clerk, gave him as a wedding present a lot of land abutting Kelley's Meadow, on Glen Road. It was there that George built his home, now the home of the Slattery family. Howard Horton was the carpenter. John went along as an assistant to his dad.

There was the day that Howard put up the roof timbers. He had spent the previous day cutting the timbers to the right lengths, and he had the ridge pole in place.

It was John's job to lay the timbers against the house, in such a way that Howard, on the second floor, could pick them up, slide them into position, and nail them into place. It was a simple job for John - just keep putting those timbers into place alongside the building, as his father took them away.

On that same day two young men were employed in digging the cesspool. It was easy digging in that ground, and long before noon the digging was completed. They had nothing to do until the mason arrived to "stone" the cesspool, and when John wandered over to look down into the hole which they had dug, they impulsively gave him a push.

John was down in the hole. "Let me out of here!" he cried.

But neither of the young men listened. Instead, as they timbers disappeared upwards, into Howard's hands, the young men kept putting more alongside the building, so that Howard suspected nothing. It wasn't until noon time, when he descended for his lunch, that he saw his son down in that hole, still crying "Let Me Out of Here!"

And the boys in Pete's Barber-shop chuckled over that one. It was a long time, they said, before Tony could ever be persuaded to look into another hole.

No story of Tony would be complete without telling what happened to him in the winter times, when the men and boys were cutting ice on Silver Lake. It was cruel.

ONE OF THE ODD JOBS THAT TONY HORTON USED TO DO: Was to carry mail from the postoffice to the railways station, in the days when the Wilmington Postoffice was where the Bedell Brothers now have their insurance agency.

Walter Hale had icehouses on Main Street, about opposite Glen Road. Every winter he would cut ice, and store it, and in the summer he would sell that ice from ice-wagons which toured the town. It was a fine business until somebody had to go and invent the electric refrigerator.

Cutting ice wasn't a real money-making operation for the farmers of Wilmington, but it gave them something to do, in the winter months. Work would start in the morning, late after the chores had been done, and would knock off in time for the farmers to get home and milk their cows. And it meant a few dollars of pay.

Once the cutting operations had begun there would be an open water, which was called "the pond", and into the pond floes of ice would be cut and drifted down to the place where they were split up into individual pieces, and conveyed into the ice house.

John, of course, with nothing to do, would always wander down to the ice cutting, and Walter Hale would pay him fifty cents a day, just as he paid the other boys. John wasn't always capable of sustained effort, but he could handle a peavy, and push the ice flows along the edge of the pond. No one was watched more carefully than John. Every young fellow had his eyes on Poor Tony. And sure enough, every other year or so, perhaps every third year, John would get careless and step onto an ice raft.

That was a signal for action. A dozen young fellows, all bearing peavies, would rush over and push that raft out into the pond. And there would John stranded.

"Let me off of here!" he would cry. But no one would. And if the wind should blow the raft towards the edge of the ice, willing peavies would again shove the floe out into the pond and John would be left crying on the floe. Finally someone would tell Howard, who would come and rescue his son.

It was cruel, and it was something to chuckle over, in the barbershop.

On Saturday afternoons, nearly every week, John would go to Lowell, to see the movies. It was great sport for him, and the whole afternoon would cost him only fifty cents - ten cents up, in the street car - ten cents back, and thirty cents for admission and peanuts.

John would sit through two performances, the matinee and the evening performance, and then get on the street car and go home, sitting happily in back, eating peanuts, and telling everybody about the movies he had just seen.

The ladies of Wilmington, who of course knew of John, but not too much of him, were often distinctly nervous if they were riding in the street car, as he returned from Lowell, babbling away about the heroine, and her beauty. Somehow, they felt it was the kind of conversation they should not have to listen to, even though John never really said anything to offend anyone.

But the ladies of fifty years ago just didn't like to have to ride in the same street car with John Horton.

John died about five years ago, somewhere about eighty-five years old. He spent the last days of his life on the Daly farm, in North Wilmington, a ward of the town, and every day he would walk out to greet the mailman - still a smile on his face.

The best story - that's being saved for the last.

Back about fifty years ago Bill Altman had a meat market, where the Little Giant Liquors store now stands. Beside the store was a little brook, and a fence, and over that fence a maple tree - swamp maple, not much of a tree, but it did provide some shade for a hot July afternoon.

was working on the roof of a building across the street, on a hot July afternoon. The building has long since been moved elsewhere, but Chester was tarring the roof - a hot job.

John was sitting on the rail, under the tree, eating peanuts. Bill Altman came out of the meat market and paused to pass the time of the day with John.

Popping a peanut into his mouth, John gestured at his brother. "That's my brother, Chester working on that roof, on this hot day".

He popped another peanut into his mouth.

"And they say I'm crazy!"

Rubies and Spinel

When the British Crown jewels are mentioned fabulously valuable gems are visualized. One jewel in the British Imperial State Crown gains its value from its ancient history. It is known as the "Black Prince's" ruby. It dates back to the 14th century. Actually, the "ruby" is a 2 inch long spinel.

There was a time when all red stones were termed rubies. Hence the name Black Prince's ruby. Ruby or not, it is a magnificent stone with an illustrious history. It's value - priceless.

Strangely enough the spinel is found in ruby-bearing rock. Burma and Thailand are sources, as is Ceylon. Colors may vary from the beautiful ruby red to a dark, inky blue. Colorless and black spinel are rare.

Spinel is now being synthetically produced. These are interesting to see and own.

Wildcats MVC Champs

The 1970 football squad is the conference champs following last Saturdays league play. The Wildcats stopped a stubborn Billerica eleven, 34-0 while Tewksbury topped Cracut and Burlington played a scoreless tie with Chelmsford, thus eliminating the Middies who are now 5-2 and the Lions, 5-1-1 from any chance of finishing first.

Coach Bellissimo's crew started off with a bang scoring the first time they got the ball. Sophomore end, John Gillis was "johnny-on-the-spot" as he recovered an Indian fumble on the opening kickoff at the Billerica 18. It took only four plays in which to score as Co-captain, Dick Gillis plunged in from the one yard line at 1:19 of the period. A bad snap from center resulted in an Esposito to Irwin pass play for the 2 point conversion, and a Wildcat lead of 8-0.

Billerica was unable to move the ball on the ensuing kickoff and Foley punted from his own 27 to the Wilmington 34. The Wildcats moved the ball in eleven plays to the Indians 20 before being halted.

The Indians took over and proceeded to march to the Wildcats 22 in eight plays only to be forced into a 4th and 10 situation from the 22 where a field goal attempt by Davis went astray as a bad snap from center was fumbled and the ever alert John Gillis pounced on the ball at the Wilmington 30.

In twelve plays the Wildcats scored again. The 70 yard march took some four minutes with Esposito cracking over from the five for the Wildcats second "td". Key plays in the drive were a pair of runs by Esposito, 12 and 17 yards each and an 11 yard burst off tackle by Gillis.

THE RICK SMALLIDGE TOUCHDOWN: in the third period of the Billerica game, on a pass from Quarterback Gustus.

45 and with some excellent blocking and shifty running by Esposito the state's leading scorer ran 45 yards for his second score of the game. With Esposito's placement the Wildcats led 21-0 with two minutes left in the first half.

Billerica moved the ball following the kickoff from their own 26 to the Wilmington 13 before time ran out.

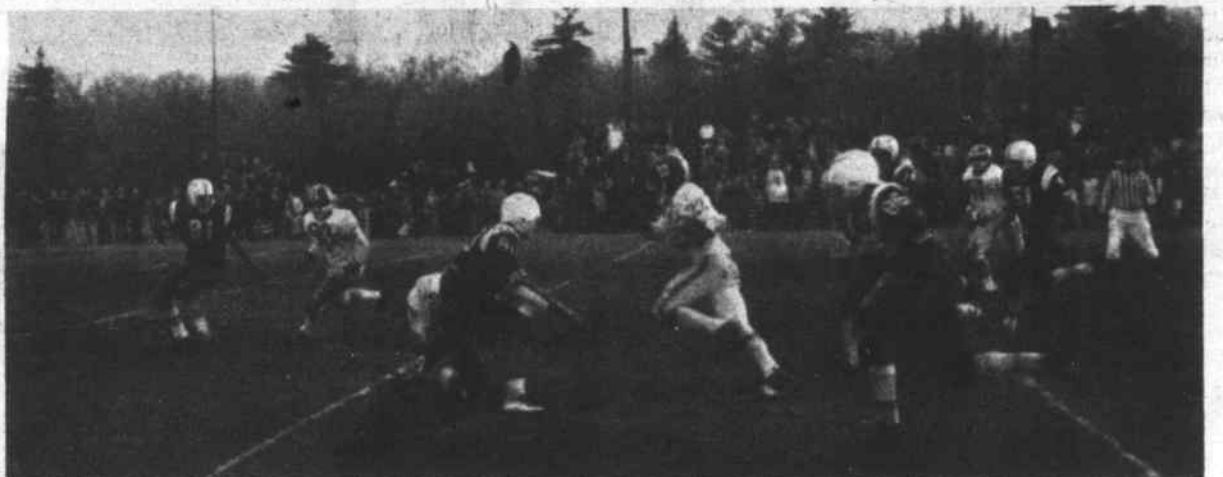

In the third period the Wildcats scored two quick touchdowns and looked as if they were going to blow Billerica right out of the ball park. On the second half kick-off the Wildcats gained excellent field position at their own 33 on a poor Davis kickoff. Three running plays moved the ball to the 41 where on a fourth down play Gustus pitched out to Esposito who neatly swept around left end to the Billerica 26. Gillis busted off tackle for 4 yards to the 22 where on the next play Gustus tossed his 14 touchdown pass of the season to senior, Rick Smallidge and with Esposito's kick the Wildcats led 28-0 at 2:56 of the third period.

On the initial play following the kickoff big Bob Gillis pounced on before being halted by a tough Billerica defense. The Indians moved up field to their own 48 before giving the ball up on a fourth down play. On the first play Gillis fumbled as he attempted to sweep left end and Billerica recovered at their own 43.

The Indians moved the ball down the Wildcats 10, their deepest penetration all afternoon, in 9 plays but a stubborn front line halted the Billerica fullback on a fourth down and short yardage situation. With five minutes left in the game both teams exchanged the ball with neither team gaining any penetration into the others territory with the game ending on the Billerica 42 with the Wildcats in possession.

POINTS AFTER.....The Championship gives Coach Bellissimo five MVC titles, three in the last four years.....The Gillis family should be very pleased with the performance of Co-capt. Dick, Bob and John this week after the excellent game turned in against the Indians. Coach Bellissimo's record is now 76-46-8 and in the past four years with Esposito, Gillis, Gustus and Smallidge along with a host of oth-

BROKEN FIELD RUNNING: Is an Esposito specialty. The High School senior, who has only one record to go, and will probably break that next Thursday, is probably the shiftest back in the state.

He is shown making his third TD in the Billerica game, a run through the entire Billerica team from the 47 yard line. Billerica players are all around, but none of them laid a hand on Esposito.

The place kick was wide to the right and at 5:11 of the second period the champs led, 14-0.

On the ensuing set of downs Billerica gained one first down moving the ball from their own 33 to the 47 before punting. Foley's punt was caught by Gillis, on a fair catch at the 20 and three plays later the "Big Blue Machine" was on the board again. Esposito broke off tackle for 18 yards to the 38 where Gillis busted up the middle for 17 more yards to the Indians an errant Indian pitch at the 11 and the Wildcats were again knocking on the door. The elusive Esposito took advantage of the break and fired a touchdown pass to Smallidge on a broken play as Mike took a pitch from Gustus but was unable to sweep left end so he adroitly stepped back and found Rick all alone in the end zone and hit Smallidge with the Wildcats fifth score. The point after kick was blocked and the Wildcats had a commanding 34-0 lead with only 3:14 played in the second half.

The Wildcats stopped Billerica on the next series of downs and took over, following Foley's punt, at their own 39 and proceeded to move down field to the Indians 9 ers the team is 30-4-1 an excellent record indeed. Esposito now has 464 career points and 184 this season and is within ear shot of establishing a new one season total, the existing record is 187. Thanksgiving Day game with arch-rival Tewksbury should be an exciting game and tickets for this encounter are now on sale in the High School as well as the two Intermediate schools.

Defensively Mike Curran, Steve Holloway, Rick Smallidge along with the Gillis boys were outstanding in the Indian encounter. Esposito gained 246 yards in 24 carries, one of his better efforts, among many. Only three senior backs have not scored this season, Gustus, Catalano and

BOOSTERS MEET ON MONDAY

The Athletic Boosters Association will hold its final meeting on Monday evening in preparation for next Thursday's annual Thanksgiving Dance.

The all-important meeting will get under way at 8:00 p.m. at the Legion Hall on Middlesex Ave.

The dance will be held in the High School Gym at 8 o'clock on Thursday Nov. 26, 1970.

RECREATION BASKETBALL

The Recreation Department announces the winter basketball program for boys, girls and men.

The boys program, open to those Wilmington boys who will be 10 or over by December 31, will begin on Saturday, November 28.

Boys who will be 10 by Dec. 31 are eligible for the Intermediate Division; those who have reached their 11th birthday, but not their 14th on Dec. 31 are eligible for the Junior Division; and those who have reached their 14th but not their 17th birthday by Dec. 31 are eligible for the Senior Division.

The program cost is $2.00 and applications are available through the Physical Education teachers or the Recreation Department. Both the fee and the application should be brought to the first practice on Saturday, Nov. 28, Intermediate at 1 p.m.; Juniors at 3 p.m. and Seniors at 5 p.m., all at the High School Gym.

The girls program, for those 10 through 15, will also begin in the High School Gym on Nov. 28 at 9 a.m. This program will concentrate on skills and fundamentals and develop into competition. There is no charge for this program.

MICELI CLUB GAINS TITLE

With only one game left on its schedule the Miceli Club gained undisputed possession of first place in the Adult Flag Football League with a convincing 52-6 win over the Merchants on Tuesday evening.

Coach Jack Cushing's Club is now 6-2 with only one game left, tonight's encounter with Charles River. While the Merchants are finished for the season ending up with a 5-4 record, Charles River could gain a tie for second if they upend the league champions tonight at Town Park.

Reserve quarterback, Dick Page, filling in for the injured Bill Walls, paced the Miceli Club in its rout of the Merchants firing 5 touchdown passes to DiMaggio, Billings, Devlin, Cushing and Babine. Dick also ran for a pair of scores in his debut as a quarterback, he was a former Wilmington High lineman.

To put the frosting on the cake Jack Garden intercepted an errant Gustus pass late in the game in the Merchants end zone and ran it all the way back for a touchdown.

TOWN LEAGUE BASKETBALL

The Town League basketball for men will begin on Wednesday night, November 25. Men interested in this league should contact Howard LaFaver, League Director, at 658-8430.

There will also be ample opportunity for non-league free play. Saturday evenings at the High School, from 7 to 10 p.m. will be for those men over 16 who wish to use the facility.

The North and West Intermediate Schools will have open gyms from 2 to 5 p.m. on Saturdays, also beginning on November 28.

"C" TEAM ENDS SUCCESSFUL SEASON

The Pop Warner Chargers "C" squad concluded its season last week with a pair of games. Last Wednesday morning Coach Currier's boys shut-out Wakefield, 20-0 in a non-league encounter.

On a cold and damp Saturday morning the boys played host to an undefeated Framingham eleven and came out on the short end of a 36-6 count. Thus finishing the season with a 10-1 record.

It was not until late in the final period that the Chargers were able to score their only touchdown. The score was set up by an excellent kickoff return by Mighty Mite, Richard Fiorillo. Rick ran the ball back some 49 yards to the Warriors 12 only to have a clipping penalty bring the ball back to the Wilmington 40.

The Chargers were not to be denied though as they marched the remaining 40 yards in 8 plays for their lone touchdown capped by Tommy Bavota's 4 yard plunge into the end zone. The Chargers were only the second team to score on the Bay State Class C Champs all season.

Richard Fiorillo, Bob Kohler, Tom Gillis, John Campbell, Brian Tower and Randy Foster played well in a losing cause.

The "A" team will be idle until it's Staten Island encounter on the 28th of the month.

 LAND COURT
 Case No. 6271 - S
 (SEAL)
 Upon petition of Selma Jacobs, of Wilmington, County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth, individually and as executrix and devisee under the will of Benjamin Jacobs, late of said Wilmington, representing the death of said Benjamin Jacobs on January 19, 1970, testate, and the allowance of his will by the Probate Court for the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth, and further representing that the said Benjamin Jacobs was the holder of a deed from the treasurer of said Town of Wilmington, registered as Document No. 14794 on certificate of title No. 4643, issued from the North Registry District of Middlesex County, being land in said Wilmington, Lots 23, 24, 25, 40 and 41, shown on Land Court plan 6271-B, the sale under which has been duly determined by the Tax Commissioner for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts to be a sale under the provisions of the low value statute; that the original deed for nonpayment of taxes was registered as Document No. 12706, noted on said certificate of title, and praying that said certificate of title No. 4643 be cancelled as to said lots, and a new certificate of title for said lots be issued to her, as owner, pursuant to law: therefore, it is ORDERED that notice of this petition be given forthwith to ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN, and to Morris D. Yellowitz and Rose Yellowitz, now or formerly of Lynn, in the County of Essex and said Commonwealth, or their heirs, devisees, or legal representatives, by publishing a copy of this order once each week for three successive weeks in the Town Crier, a newspaper published in said Wilmington, and if you desire to make any objection or defense to said petition, you or your attorney must file a written appearance and an answer under oath, setting forth clearly and specifically your objections or defense to each part of said petition, in the office of the Recorder of said Court, in Boston (at the Court House), on or before the 30th day of November, next.
 Unless an appearance is so filed by or for you, the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree or order as the Court may make.

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
 DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS
 NOTICE OF HEARING ON STATE HIGHWAY LAYOUT
 READING-WILMINGTON
 Pursuant to the provisions of Section 5, Chapter 81 of the General Laws, Ter. Ed., as amended, the Department of Public Works will give a public hearing in the Wilmington High School Auditorium on Wednesday, December 16, 1970 at 8:00 P.M. to all persons interested in the construction of two additional ramps for the existing partial interchange of Routes 1-93 and 129 (Lowell Street) in Wilmington and Reading.
 The project consists of the construction of additional ramps in the northwest and southeast quadrants of the existing partial interchange at the junction of Route 1-93 and Route 129 (Lowell Street) in Wilmington and Reading. The project also includes the widening of the existing bridge carrying Route 129 over I-93 and the widening and improvement of Route 129 from a point at Woburn Street in Wilmington easterly to the existing bridge over the Boston and Maine Railroad in Reading, a distance of approximately 5500'.
 This hearing is to be a combined corridor and design public hearing.
 Plans showing the proposed project will be on display at the Reading Town Hall on December 14, 1970 from 2:00 to 5:00 PM and from 7:00 to 9:00 PM, at the Wilmington Memorial Library from 2:00 to 5:00 PM and from 7:00 to 9:00 PM on December 15, 1970, and on the evening of the hearing from 7:00 PM to 8:00 PM at the Wilmington High School. An engineer will be in attendance during these displays to answer questions regarding this project.
 Written views received by the Department subsequent to the date of this notice and up to five (5) days prior to the date of the hearing shall be displayed for public inspection and copying at the time and date listed above.
 Written statements and other exhibits in place of, or in addition to, oral statements at the public hearing regarding the proposed undertaking are to be submitted to Daniel S. Horgan, Chief Engineer, Massachusetts Department of Public Works, 100 Nashua Street, Boston, Massachusetts. Such submission will also be accepted at the hearing. The final date for receipt of these statements and exhibits will be ten (10) days after this public hearing.
 The Department's policy for "Relocation Assistance", if required, and tentative schedules for right of way acquisition and construction will be discussed at the hearing.
 By order of the Department of Public Works,
 Boston, Mass. EDWARD F. DOYLE
 November 9, 1970 Secretary

This Is Real Growth!

We are now beginning to occupy our new 65,000 sq. ft. addition located behind our main plant "on the hill" in Wilmington. This represents our 5th expansion in the past 18 months. Our sales this year are over 15 million, up from $16,000 in 1961. And, last week our total employment past the 1,000 mark. This is real growth, and real stability with a company that is the leader in the development and manufacture of computer phototypesetting systems for the printing and graphic arts industry. Due to this continuing expansion our sheet metal machine shop has openings for workers at practically all level of skill.

SHEET METAL MECHANIC
We are seeking an individual with 3 - 5 years sheet metal experience, capable of performing all types of sheet metal work including layouts, machine set ups and close tolerance work.

MACHINIST B
3 - 5 years of varied machine shop experience.

FABRICATION MECHANICS
Seven openings exist for fabrication mechanics at various levels of skill to operate punch presses and a variety of other machines. We will also consider TRAINEES with trade school background.

THEATRE GROUP

The Wilmington Little Theatre, sponsored by the Wilmington Recreation Department will be holding casting tryouts on Thursday November 19 at 7 p.m. in Barrows Auditorium in the High School.

The play is "George Washington Slept Here". There are 17 parts to be filled, 9 men and 8 women.

In addition to the "spotlight" there will be ample opportunity for all to take part in presenting Wilmington's first theatre play. Lights, sound effects, costumes, makeup, publicity - you name it.

So, plan to be on hand Thursday, November 19th at 7 p.m., Barrows Auditorium, High School. For further information call, Ken Zucker, Recreation Director at 658-6512.

Students and Parents

A Drug Forum

The Wilmington Public Schools recognize that student drug users and non-users are, as a group, knowledgeable about the possible bad effects of drug use. This knowledge, hopefully, will be reinforced when the Drug Education Program is implemented fully in the schools this year.

At this time, a cadre of teachers, students, and parents are in a training program to apprise themselves of all possible ramifications of drug use and abuse. We would, however, like to make this training available to all concerned parents in Wilmington by implementing an adult evening program in Drug Education.

To learn more about this program, we would like to extend an invitation to all Wilmington parents and students to attend an open forum on Nov. 23rd at 7:30 in the High School Auditorium on drug use presented by the school administration, teachers, Town Drug Committee, Family Life Committee and many other concerned citizens.

In the long run school systems parents, and our churches must demonstrate to all youngsters that there are better and more lasting ways to experience the fullness, the depth, the variety and richness of life than that of ingesting chemicals.

BATHROOM STANDARDS

Baffled by bathrooms

Many a person thinks all bathrooms are pretty much the same. Until he moves into a house with one which just doesn't meet his requirements. Then he wishes he had paid more attention to seemingly small details.

If the bathroom seems small to you, here are some simple tests to make. Stretch out your arms as though you were drying your back with a towel. Move them back and forth. If you hit a wall, you'll probably suffer from bruised knuckles after you move in. Bend over the washbowl. Do you hit the wall ahead or behind you? If so, you'll probably wish on many a morning that you had bought a house with a bigger bath.

Attention to detail will pay off in future enjoyment.
